ATLANTA, GA.
TUESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 23, 1897.
Sold every day in New York yesterday at 10c, and closed at 10 3/4.

Corresponding editor, closed yesterday in New York at 11 1/2 in Liverpool at 6 1/2.

The Spaniards say they have captured the Cuban president. The story is an unlikely one, but even if it is true, the revolution will go on the same as ever.

The freedman's bureau still lives. Its annual report has just been submitted to the secretary of war. The total amount of money received during the past year was $104,774; available for disbursement, $627,500; amount disbursed, $302,568; balance on hand $324,932.

And so old man Simon Cameron is to get the English mission. We told you Simon was not playing wifeg-wag around the white house for nothing. But won't he cut a pretty figure in English society? If Col. G. Bill loves his country as truly as he has led unsuspecting people to believe he will protest against this international outrage in the next number of his journal of civilization.

Mr. Patterson, of Colorado, presents a strong case. He will show that the department of justice decided that the election should be held in November; that the republican governor of the state did not consider the October election legal, and that the republican secretary of state issued a circular for the election of a congressman in November. Mr. Beilford was not voted for in November and Mr. Patterson was. The latter will gain his seat.

The Italian editor of the Macdon Telegraph devotes considerable space in his issue of Sunday, which has just reached our table, to replying to a recent editorial article in THE CONSTITUTION wherein we showed that it would cost the people of the state nearly one million of dollars to remove the capital from Atlanta. The reply appears to be divided into thirty-four sections and each section is rounded off and illustrated with an italic appellation. We shall analyze the article, italics and all, on some future occasion.

Dr. Culver, private secretary to Mr. Stephens says that Gen. Gordon did not support the claims of Mr. Hull against those of Mr. Fitzsimmons. He further says that while several of the Georgia delegation had special and particular friends, yet Mr. Fitzsimmons was the second choice of a large majority, and his appointment gave entire satisfaction in the whole delegation. Dr. Culver has given the fabrications of the Washington reporters more attention than they deserve. We published a batch of them yesterday morning to illustrate more particularly the Washington way of manufacturing reasons for any known action.

THE UNION PACIFIC.

This great swindle is making money. Its receipts during the past year were thirteen and a half millions; its net earnings over a million and a half. It now has complete control of the coal interests along its line, and proposes to assume the management of its sleeping car and express business. The business of the road is rapidly increasing, especially in the transportation of cattle. Iron bridges are taking the place of wooden ones, the entire road is in first-class order, and the rolling stock excellent.

This prosperity induces the government directors of the road to recommend some provision for the payment of the debt due the United States. They recommend the enactment of a law providing for the payment of half a million dollars semi-annually, in addition to what is now received under existing statutes, and that this shall be held as a sinking fund for extinguishing the debt due the government. They submit statements to show that when the bonds fall due thirty years hence, the total debt would thus be paid, with the exception of about nine millions, which would soon be extinguished by the transportation account and the five per cent. fund.

A very flattering statement; but it does not appear that the views of the government directors are the views of the other directors. The reverse is probably the case. It is safe to say that the men who control the Union Pacific will never accept any such plan of repayment until they are forced to do so by a sterner congress than the country has known since the construction of the road. In the meanwhile the people are keeping up the interest on the bonds that were issued to build the road—a road that earns above expenses well on to two millions a year. Dividends taken from the pockets of the people by the tax gatherer, are regularly divided among the fortunate stockholders of the big swindle.

TURNBULL IN THE RING.

Furman, the man whose eloquence wrings tears from the multitude and causes maidens yet in their teens to fling away their chewing gum, made a speech at Clarksville last week and was replied to by Jim Turnbull. We take it the latter wasn't on hand when Furman delivered his speech, for the reply was not made until the next day—and Turnbull, indeed, when called upon he expressed regret that Furman was not present in order that he might get in a little fun with the facts he had proposed to present. As it was, he literally ridiculed the arguments of the Milledgeville champion. He was especially severe upon Furman's statement that a removal would lessen

THE SILVER DOLLAR.

The report of Senator Jones' monetary commission—a volume of two hundred pages—has created a sensation. It advocates the remonetization of silver, as no serious denial of the legal right of the United States to pay its bonds in gold or silver, at its option, can be made.
